Agree with U. Penn.

Here's a couple of a different sort:

Use case: in-vitro study to determine immunogenicity of melanoma lysate in culture of stimulated WBC's. Requires fresh melanoma sample on ice.

Query: This would be an example of a "prospective" query/request to the field and would require a posting/announcement board for special requests.

Use case: study involving the effect of siRNA inhibited RAD51 gene on tumorigenicity of human glioma cells in mice. We would like to collaborate with a lab that is experienced in analysis of telomere expansion and immortalization of human brain dendritic cells.

Query: This would involve creating domains on the grid that include lists of available expertise and equipment for collaboration.
